The guidance courses offered by the college help the students prepare diligently for the competitive exams. The syllabi of such courses adhere to the point of view from which the competitive exams are held. The basic categories of questions that are asked for such exams are explained and taught in length. These courses offer an overall development of language and other subject wise skills to the students who to study the course.

CAREER COUNSELLING

The main Aim of Career Counselling is to help the students to choose a field that is in tune with their skills and their job expectations. With the help of career counselling, most students end up choosing the right career and perform their level best, which ultimately helps them succeed. Academic Excellence is often a pursuit that put students in the race to get good grades, making them engrossed in their activities that they dangerously ignore the importance of orienting themselves towards a career path.

Career Counselling helps the students to understand their strengths and weakness. It helps them to work on their short comings and prepares them to face interviews. These sessions make sure the students are well prepared to face the outside world and help them to understand the work culture of the companies. Students are benefitted with this kind of sessions that enable them to have a better understanding of career options suited for their education level and make them capable of achieving their first career. It is a tool which can be very effective in allowing students to realize their true potential and find work that aligns with them their aptitude and skill.

Placement cell organizes career counselling sessions for all the students especially final years on regular intervals .Professionals from various industries visit the college and groom the students in various career skills ,which includes body language, soft skills etc. At times even mock interviews are conducted to give a feel of real interviews.

SOFTSKILL DEVELOPMENT

The development of soft skills has become important in today's fast growing world. The students at the college are taught to communicate and interact at a professional level. The qualities of confidence and critical thinking are developed making the students better at soft skills. Soft skill development courses inculcate ethical attitude towards others and also help in the nurturing of better interpersonal skills. Much of the communication related activities are developed and taught to students who are willing and interested to enhance their skills.

Remedial Coaching

Remedial coaching is undertaken by individual lecturers of each department to provide some extra academic help to slow learners and those students who have been observed to score consistently low marks in the internal examinations. These students are re-taught parts of the syllabus that they could not follow in the classes. Certain additional assignments and tests are administered to them to ascertain their progress in learning the concepts that they could not master during the class lectures and continuous internal assessments. These classes are generally held in the sixth hour. Students lacking in confidence to ask questions during class hours also benefit from these classes as they are able to put forth their queries freely in smaller groups. An important skill that students with poor writing skills learn during these classes is the art of organizing the points in an essay-type answer as per the requirements of the question. Remedial coaching has been shown to improve the performance of those students who struggle to keep up with the demands of the syllabus in the semester system

Language Lab

The programme enhances linguistic skills while improving communication, with an emphasis on phonetics for language fluency. It encourages sound listening and speaking abilities. Reading comprehension makes sure students utilise their analytical and interpretive abilities. Practical exercises provide ample opportunities to practice language and grammar skills. The demonstration of sentence formation provides clarity of usage of grammatical elements. Lab hours also facilitate pronunciation and conversational proficiency through Jam sessions, Seminars and Debates.

Bridge Course In English

A bridge course is offered by the English Department to First year students of all departments to improve their communication skills in English. Considering the diverse backgrounds from which the students come and the difficulties they often face in English communication, this three weeks long course is designed to help them overcome basic barriers in communication in the English language. The course aims at aiding the students in learning to listen to lectures in English effectively and comprehend them properly, speaking fluently so as to be able to express the basic concepts of their respective subjects in a coherent manner, reading and interpreting information in English, and writing clearly and concisely. Students coming from rural backgrounds and those who face minor challenges with language are particularly able to benefit from this course.

Personal Counselling

Personal counselling sessions are undertaken by the professional counsellor appointed by the college. The counsellor helps students with problems during their stay in the college. Counselling is a collaborative effort between the counsellor and the client. This kind of collaboration helps the clients identify goals and potential solutions to the problems which cause emotional turmoil, seek to improve communication and coping skills, strength self-esteem and promote behaviour change and optimal mental health. The counsellor serves as an empathetic listener. The counsellor analyses the problems of the students and takes a standardized psychological method to treat the student. The students might face emotional turbulence due to various problems like depression, abuse, harassment, family problems etc... The counsellor provides guidance and advice on solving the problems through the counselling sessions. The information shared by the students during the personal counselling sessions is kept confidential and dealt with compassionately. The ethical and legal limitations of counselling are discussed well in advance with the student during the first meet. The Counselling Cell of the college takes care of all the counselling related activities. They make up the core body that deals with issues faced by the students and provide early interventions, help and support to them.

Corporate World

Date: 7th Dec 2013.

Conducted by, Corporate Trainer- Mr. Mr. Shashidhar Thaduri

Organized by: MBA Department

Participants: 1st year MBA Students

There is a huge misconception among students that being smart is the way to be successful. There are many who work well but cannot communicate. There are still others who communicate well but cannot manage people.

In this connection, the Department of MBA has organized an orientation on the "Corporate World " and what students have to be prepared for as they come across the corporate work culture.

Mr. Shashidhar Thaduri, Corporate Trainer and a freelancer for many MNC's has given wonderful insights on what the corporate expectations are from the students they hire from various colleges.

The participants also had taken the session well by classifying many apprehensions that they had about the Corporate World.

It was a good initiative by the faculty for this Corporate person connect with the students so that there is application of what they learn from different subjects of management education.

SUBJECT: The session is about career guidance to the students.

DATE:29th June 2015

Resource Person: Mrs.Geetha Venkatraman, HR,Cognizant Solutions and Mr.Shiva

Overview of the session:

During the session the speaker educated the students to understand themselves first in terms of their interests and abilities and what do they expect from their education and career. She advised them to be organized and make appropriate decisions while choosing the career. The speaker also told students to identify the factors which influence their career choices and act accordingly.

She suggested them to have a goal in life and take an appropriate step and to be determined to achieve the goal. At the end of the session, the speaker answered all the questions of students on career and educational options available for final year students.

OUTCOME OF THE SESSION:

- teaching labor market changes and complexity of the workplace
 - broadening knowledge, skills, and abilities
 - improving decision making skills
 - increasing self-esteem and motivation
 - building interpersonal effectiveness
 - maximizing career opportunities
 - improving employment marketability and opportunities
 - promoting effective job placement
 - strengthening employer relations

OVERALL OUTCOME:

Finally, I will conclude by saying never underestimate the importance of career guidance. In our, country where everyone only wants a Sarkari Naukri, they hardly give any importance to other career options.

You should open your mind regarding your career. Career guidance could make things a lot easier for you.Although in India the culture of career guidance is limited to big cities but you need to defy this culture and make best use of career guidance.

ABOUT SANZYME...

The year 1969, was a momentous beginning for the pharmaceutical industry in India. Around four decades ago, the first Indo-Japanese venture was inked and a new entity known as Uni-Sankyo was born. The company was the first to manufacture fungal diastase and other enzymes, which had a huge demand in India. The professional approach of the Japanese corporation Sankyo, which joined hands with us, also saw the introduction of LAB, a probiotic, in India which is marketed both in the tablet and powder form. The brand name Sporlac is synonymous with good gut health but the use of Sporlac was just not limited to gut health, but saw varied applications in the field of Gynaecology, Cardiology, Herpetology and Oral Healthcare.

Date: 15 December, 2017

Venue: Agri Biotech Foundation, PJTSAU Campus, Rajendranagar, Hyderabad.

Objective: To give an exposure to the aspiring business administration students who have an invention or product idea, and want to learn more about how their work could become the basis for a startup.

A total of nine students from the department of BBA were encouraged to participate in the one day workshop, BIO-INCUBATOR, a joint initiative of Agri Biotech Foundation & a-IDEA, NAARM, on 15 Dec 2017, to get real first hand information about Entrepreneurship Development.

The one day workshop started with a welcome note by Prof. Pakki Reddy, who also gave an eventful insight of the startup scenario in India and the activities under the aegis of BIRAC to promote entrepreneurship. He also spoke at large about Agri Biotech Foundation and its inception with the aid of the Dutch government.

Dr A.K. Dutta, the first speaker for the day, is the MD of Excel Matrix Biological Devices Limited. He insisted the need for consulting the entrepreneurial community by the academic establishments before framing the policies for startups. He mainly spoke about the startup ecosystem in India and some major pitfalls in policy and the government's role in creating a conducive environment for them to grow and expand.

The second speaker, V. Ramachander, MD APITCO, with a good tenure at the State Finance Corp. previously, emphasised on the key elements required in a project report which was being submitted for appraisal so as to raise funds. With his rich experience at the SFC, he could also offer the students a banker's perspective and all that a banker would consider before issuing a loan to an entrepreneur. He spoke in detail about the key elements that would be reviewed in a project appraisal such as managerial, technical (at length), market, financial, economic and ecological aspects and other risk-related connotations for an entrepreneur.

Prof M.L. Sai Kumar, the third speaker, emphasised keenly on motivating and inspiring the students by throwing light on the various opportunities that entrepreneurs could capitalize on. He quoted, "Procrastination changes nothing, decisions change something, but determination can change everything".

The fourth speaker, Dr John Peter, a scientist turned entrepreneur, MD Varsha Biosciences, shared with students his transition in 2003 to an entrepreneur and experiences of the last 17 years into becoming one of the prominent players in the whole of South India. He focussed on ethical business management and also about changing the society's perception of businessmen as robbers. Most importantly, he focused on the need to have knowledge about various govt offices, permits and people to hire, to get a company registered and functioning.

Learning Outcome: The students thoroughly enjoyed the one day workshop as the speakers were highly informative and were able to professionally address practical problems associated with startups. The students concluded that they had an enriching experience and thanked the college management for giving them this opportunity.

Remedial Coaching

Remedial coaching is undertaken by individual lecturers of each department to provide some extra academic help to slow learners and those students who have been observed to score consistently low marks in the internal examinations. These students are re-taught parts of the syllabus that they could not follow in the classes. Certain additional assignments and tests are administered to them to ascertain their progress in learning the concepts that they could not master during the class lectures and continuous internal assessments. These classes are generally held in the sixth hour. Students lacking in confidence to ask questions during class hours also benefit from these classes as they are able to put forth their queries freely in smaller groups. An important skill that students with poor writing skills learn during these classes is the art of organizing the points in an essay-type answer as per the requirements of the question. Remedial coaching has been shown to improve the performance of those students who struggle to keep up with the demands of the syllabus in the semester system.

Language Lab

The programme enhances linguistic skills while improving communication, with an emphasis on phonetics for language fluency. It encourages sound listening and speaking abilities. Reading comprehension makes sure students utilise their analytical and interpretive abilities. Practical exercises provide ample opportunities to practice language and grammar skills. The demonstration of sentence formation provides clarity of usage of grammatical elements. Lab hours also facilitate pronunciation and conversational proficiency through Jam sessions, Seminars and Debates.

Meditation Session

The first year students of the B.A Psychology, English and Journalism stream had a session on Meditation. This session was conducted by Mohammad Udaipurwala of NEL. The session commenced with Mohammad asking all the students to sit in a comfortable position, close their eyes and to concentrate on the breathing. The students were instructed to place their palms on their thighs and follow the instructions of the speaker. They were asked to inhale for four seconds, hold their breath for two seconds and then exhale for six seconds. Care was taken to ensure that the time spent exhaling should be more than the time spent inhaling. The students were later asked to concentrate on any specific part of the body that was causing pain or discomfort.

As the session progressed, the instructor asked them to imagine various scenes that would subsequently bring a feeling of relaxation to the mind. The session ended as they placed their warm palms over their eyes and slowly closed their eyes. The session lasted for 7-8 minutes. Mohamed explained the different types of meditation. He also elucidated upon their profound uses on a daily basis, especially in decluttering the mind. The students were taught the right way to meditate and about how yoga and meditation has developed in the recent times. He also shared his personal experiences regarding meditation. A lot of queries from the students were clarified.

The students thoroughly enjoyed the session as it felt like a break from the normal routine of classes. A 7-8 minutes of meditation gave the students immense peace of mind. Thus, every student understood the use of meditation during the session itself. The session was conducted very professionally.

Outcome: The exercise helped students find ways of gaining emotional control during times of stress and also acquire a window into their spiritual selves. They learnt how to achieve a sense of calmness in trying times and also to guide others when they lose their calm.

PERSONAL COUNSELING

Personal counseling sessions are undertaken by the professional counsellor appointed by the college. The counselor helps students with problems during their stay in the college. Counselling is a collaborative effort between the counsellor and the client. This kind of collaboration helps the clients identify goals and potential solutions to the problems which cause emotional turmoil, seek to improve communication and coping skills, strength self-esteem and promote behaviour change and optimal mental health. The counsellor serves as an empathetic listener.

The counsellor analyses the problems of the students and takes a standardized psychological method to treat the student. The students might face emotional turbulence due to various problems like depression, abuse, harassment, family problems etc... The counsellor provides guidance and advice on solving the problems through the counselling sessions. The information shared by the students during the personal counselling sessions is kept confidential and dealt with compassionately. The ethical and legal limitations of counselling are discussed well in advance with the student during the first meet. The Counselling Cell of the college takes care of all the counselling related activities. They make up the core body that deals with issues faced by the students and provide early interventions, help and support to them.

Dear Ma'am,

Thank you very much for the wonderful opportunity given to me to serve the students. Please find below the report for the same.

2nd Semester duration: 21st Feb 2015 to 3rd April 2015

1st Semester duration: 10th July 2015 to 3rd Oct 2015

21 students approached the Counsellor for various aspects. Most of them attended only one session while 6 students attended more than 2 sessions and some have even attended 3 and 4 sessions too.

The common nature of issues shared by them were, low self-esteem within them, handling conflicts with parents and friends. Some shared about their relationship issues. Performance anxiety before the exams. Anxiety about their future. One student in particular presented Suicidal ideation owing to relationship conflict with her partner. As the Counsellor felt that this issue should be under care and observation of the College authorities and referred to Psychiatrist, the same was informed to the concerned Higher Up. This particular case was followed up by the Counsellor parallelly giving appropriate therapeutic support to which the client responded positively and came out of the suicidal thought after several session in person and over the phone.

Few group sessions were held on handling relationships. Identifying the red flags and their relationship and handling them in healthy manner.
