They shared their experience about the wellness and well being of the children and the whole community, their presence made the event more successful.

.We have arrived at the location by 10:30Am and program was held up to 1:00Pm. We have started the program by giving a short introduction about our major concern and the reason why we were visiting the campus.

In order to cheer up and build rapport with those children, we conducted a small fun game called ice breaker.

The game was adjoined by a skit presented by a group of our classmates which was related to create awareness about “Healthy eating choices and avoiding junk food “. We then conducted a few basic exercises to state awareness about importance of physical activity .

After these activities, children were divided into groups and each of our classmates personally counselled each group about nutritional intake, healthy habits, morals and ethics. This conversation was hoped to bring up a great impact on children.

Later on our program, all the children were given a couple of poster presentations about personal hygiene, food pyramid and intake, common deficiencies among growing children and foods rich in those nutrients.

Last segment was meant to be fun and interesting after the educational programs. So we conducted a ring game and gifted some rewards which were nutritious for winners.

The program was concluded by exchanging vote of thanks by one of our classmates and children.

Gifts were distributed to Children and some grocery items were contributed to the Lingapur elementary school.

We felt happy to teach them about importance of nutrition. Children are humble, disciplined and very curious to know about the topic.
