Mr Rajesh Pershad emphasized on the high performing teams are composed of individual with specialized expertise and complementary skill who are goal oriented and hyper-focused on achieving clear, outstanding results, with the right approach to performance management, empower them to collaborate, innovate and produce work at the highest levels. Every workforce requires the “worker bees” who show up on time, take direction well, get the job done right, and generally keep the work flowing. To grow your business, you need to identify and nurture those employees who have that little something extra. Focus on the select few who regularly go beyond the job description and exhibit creative thinking and leadership potential. Top performers consider quality a priority over simply getting things done. They aren’t satisfied unless your clients and customers are singing your praises.

He also enlightened with few pictorials and asked us to examine it and answer them which was quite and interactive session by the everyone. Mr Rajesh Pershad also mentioned that the attitude if a manager is very important as it drives through the achievement if his goals also high performing teams are aligned in their focus, purpose and priorities. The best employees are more likely to perform their own research and spend more time on projects than average performers. They self-motivate and self-initiate new assignments and challenges. They seek out those in the organization who have the influence and the knowledge they need to achieve their goals and progress to the next level.

Conclusion: It is very informative to the students. The resource person emphasized about the communication in an organization, when a communication breaks down conflict arises and performance suffers, high performing teams set clear expectations and channels for communication so that everyone knows when and where to communicate and who they need to connect with.

Outcome: This webinar provided a platform for the young leaders, students to discuss their innovative ideas with various contemporaries and experts.

department that is ACSC (1st year), NCSC (2nd year) and DCSC (3rd year) at Loyola Hall from 12:30 – 2:00pm

The program was hosted by the class representative of DCSC Vamshi Reddy. Mr. Ravi Kumar addressed the students with a few activities which were quite intriguing for the students and flashed about the computer science and cognitive systems course and its importance. The CSC course officially began in the year of 2018 to make students job ready in the IT field. TCS has pledged to provide the enrolled students with different field projects and an internship along with the placements, Only the final year students are eligible to get placed in the company.

The process to get placed in any company:

Round 1: aptitude test

Round 2: HR Round

Round 3: technical round

Round 4: manager round

Mr. Ravi also discussed about Industry 4.0 project which is a program that makes students to create new projects and to grow up with competition in the field of technology.

There will be 2 expert lectures from TCS organization in odd semesters by the completion of this three year course and technical lectures will also be provided.

TCS encourages the enrolled students to join TCS but doesn't restrict either to opt for any other companies they desire to apply for.

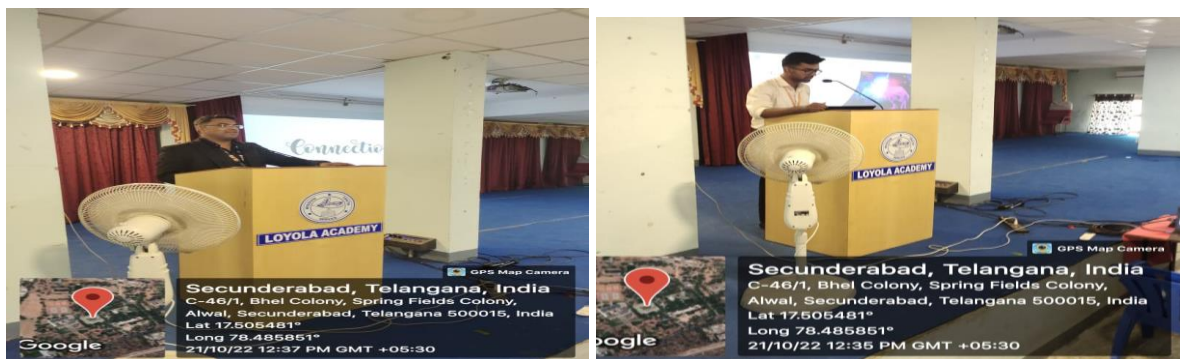

The CSC course structure is designed in such a way to train and certify students with 9 core subjects of IT infrastructure along with several different skill-enhancement course. Our departmental lecturers are trained for a better view of real field concepts by experienced resource persons through TCS.

Last but not the least after Ravi Kumar's talk, Question and Answer session started with students asking questions to the resource person regarding different aspects of this course and its outcome, Most importantly Sir stated that a person with qualities like Knowledge, skills, and attitude can crack and achieve anything.

The final year students had a talk in person with Mr. Ravi Kumar regarding placements as the placements drive will start soon.

At the conclusion of the event, vote of thanks was given by Elizabeth Varsha (Event head of student council 22-23) from DCSC and the career talk by TCS organized by BSC Computer Science and Cognitive Systems of Loyola Academy was a success.

Outcome: It is a very useful and interactive session.

Aim: To guide students providing them guidance on how entrepreneurship can be pursued as a successful career

Report: The department of Master of Business Administration (MBA) had organized a talk on Entrepreneurship on 26th November, 2022 for the students of I & II year MBA students and faculty members at Loyola Hall providing them guidance on how entrepreneurship can be pursued as a successful career. which was addressed by Mr. K V S Krishnamohan, Professor at GITAM Business School, Hyderabad.

He focused on how various start-ups such as Zomato, Oyo and TATA were formed and what it took from the entrepreneurs to establish their businesses. He also spoke about how an entrepreneurial idea can emerge out of everyday common things given the right mind-set. Further he proceeded to brief on the three main elements of investment, which are 'time, money and energy', and also stated that one does not have to wait till the completion of their education to pursue their own ventures in business. the business. He mentioned some books like “Rich dad, Poor dad” for financial assistance, “wings of fire” for inspiration and “Stay hungry, stay foolish” to find a career path.

He gave his valuable input by sharing a personal experience of an OLA driver, how the driver was a fulltime student and still drove a car in his free time in order to fulfil his desire to drive and pay off the debt for his car. He also shared a story that he came across from his colleague from another institution where the students took an initiative to hold “birthday celebration services” where they would be in charge of arranging and preparing for various activities related to birthdays. When asked by a student on what would be an appropriate time to consider starting their own ventures, he assured the students are never too late to start by giving the example of Colonel Sander, who is the founder of KFC. He spoke about how important it is to use resources efficiently and effectively so as to avoid loss and wastage to improve on outputs. Briefing in depth he highlighted on two start-ups in India, “Mirakle Couriers” and “Good Fellow”. Mirakle Couriers started in 2009, located in Mumbai which hires deaf and mute workers as their employees and good fellow is a programme which cares for Old Aged individuals, and Prof. elaborated as it is a good venture as “India itself is gradually becoming an old age home, as most of its youngsters are moving abroad and becoming NRI (Non-Returning Indians).” He concluded the session by displaying two videos, one which was a news report on the ‘good fellow’ programme in which Mr Ratan Tata invested. He ended the session with a countdown on the 7 youngest entrepreneurs in India. At the end of the talk, he also interacted with students from the audience and the student volunteers and gave various insights on how learning can be more effective on the part of students and how they need to focus on building their skills and being creative at learning things to understand and remember them in a better way.

Conclusion: Students were impressed by the talk.
