program, Goitre control program" was shifted from module IV to module III to align it with the study of minerals and deficiency related health issues.

d) Module IV: Module IV has been retitled as Food Energy and Recommended Dietary Allowances (RDA). The topics from Module III was shifted to module IV to ensure better organization and appropriate distribution of course content.

The topics Energy imbalance, Basal metabolic rate-definition, Factors influencing BMR, Body Mass Index and Factors affecting RDA were included in module IV to provide students with a comprehensive understanding of energy requirements, metabolism and nutritional assessment.

The topic "Physiological fuel value – Energy requirements" was excluded as the concepts related to energy requirements are covered under related topics.

The earlier module IV has been excluded and its relevant topics have been appropriately incorporated into other units to ensure continuity and improve coherence of the syllabus. The topics "Assessment of nutritional status – Anthropometric measurements, Clinical assessment; Radiological & biophysical methods, Biochemical methods; Diet surveys" were removed as they were considered advanced and more appropriate for higher level or clinical nutrition courses.

6. It was resolved to approve the syllabus changes in First year, First semester course titled Food and Human Nutrition (P) for the academic year 2026-2027 for the batch 2026-2029.

a) Estimation of calorific value by Bomb calorimeter, Identification of proteins from the given food samples (Albumin protein in egg, Milk protein, Globulin protein of ground nut, Glutelin and Gliadin protein in wheat) and estimation of calcium were included as these experiments provide hands-on training and help students understand the analytical methods used to determine energy content and key nutrients in foods, thereby strengthening their practical knowledge and application of theoretical concepts.

b) Record diet of self using 24 hour diet recall and its Nutritional analysis, Planning of meals for adults of different activity levels for various income groups and Planning of nutritious snacks for different age and income groups were excluded as they are more aligned with advanced applications of diet planning and nutritional assessment.

Unit 5: ultra filtration and ultra-centrifugation and solid phase extraction were removed as they were covered in Emerging Trends in food processing & preservation

k) It was resolved to approve to add new practical syllabus in 1st year, II semester paper entitled "Processing of Plantation Products and Spices Practical" for the academic year 2026-2027 for the batch of 2026-2028 as per CBCS. The inclusion of practical's is essential to provide students with hands-on knowledge of the processing techniques used for economically important agricultural commodities. These practical's help students understand operations such as cleaning, drying, grinding, grading, and value addition, which are important for improving quality, shelf life, and market value. It also enables students to gain practical exposure to post-harvest handling and processing methods widely used in the food industry.

l) It was resolved to approve changes in the practical syllabus in 1st year, II semester paper titled " Food Process Engineering" for the academic year 2026-2027 for the batch of 2026-2028 as per CBCS . The practicals were rearranged to maintain a logical progression from basic engineering properties of foods (viscosity, thermal properties) to equipment design and heat transfer studies,

15.	Dr. N. Annapurna	Assistant Professor in Statistics
16.	Ms. M. Chandana	Assistant Professor in Computer Sc.

The following points were discussed in the meeting:

1. The Chairperson, BoS of the Program, B.Sc. Mathematics Statistics & Computer Science, Dr. Shakira Sultana welcomed and introduced the members of the Pre BoS and thanked each one of them for sparing their valuable time to attend the meeting.
2. The minutes of the Pre Board of Studies meeting held on 16th January 2025.were communicated to the members. The comments received have been incorporated and placed for confirmation.
3. It was resolved to approve the syllabus of III & IV semesters for the academic year 2026-2027 for the batch of 2025-2028 as per CBCS. (Enclosed in Annexure- I).
4. It was resolved to move the Discipline Specific Core course Java Programming (4+1) to the Third Semester of the AY 2026-27 from Sem V in the Scheme of 2025-28.

   (Justification: Java Programming is a core foundational course. Moving it to the Third Semester helps students acquire programming and object-oriented concepts earlier, which supports advanced courses, practical work, projects, and skill development in later semesters. Hence, the change ensures better curriculum sequencing and academic progression).

5. It was resolved to approve the syllabus of Data Analysis using Power BI (1+1) under SEC-2, in Fourth Semester of the AY 2026-27 for the batch of 2025-2028.

   (Justification: Power BI is a widely used business intelligence tool that enables students to analyse datasets, create interactive dashboards, generate meaningful insights, and present data effectively for decision-making. Introducing this course will help students develop practical skills in data handling, data visualization, and report generation, thereby enhancing their analytical thinking and employability prospects).

6. It was resolved to approve the syllabus of Statistical Inference [Pr] (1) in Fourth Semester of the AY 2026-27 for the batch of 2025-2028.

   (Justification: The syllabus of Statistical Inference Practical has been revised with the objective of strengthening the practical component of the course and improving students' applied understanding of statistical inference methods. The practical sessions will be conducted using both MS Excel and R, enabling students to develop computational proficiency).

7. It was resolved to move the Discipline Specific Core Course Numerical analysis (4) to the Fourth Semester of the AY 2026-27 from Sem III in the Scheme of 2025-28.

   (Justification: Numerical Analysis requires sufficient mathematical foundation and problem-solving skills. Moving it to the Fourth Semester allows students to gain the necessary background in earlier semesters, ensuring better understanding, effective learning, and improved curriculum sequencing).

8. It was resolved to approve the list of examiners for B.Sc. Mathematics Statistics & Computer Science- under regulation 2026-27. (Enclosed in Annexure-II)
9. It was resolved to approve the indent for library books for AY: 2026-2027. (Enclosed in Annexure-III).
10. It was resolved to approve the budget proposal for AY- 2026-2027. (Enclosed in Annexure-IV)

The above resolutions were unanimously approved in the meeting

The following points were discussed in the meeting,

1. The Chairperson, BoS of the Programme, B.Sc. Computer Science & Cyber Security Mrs. S. Lakshmi welcomed and introduced the members of the BoS and thanked each one of them for sparing their valuable time to attend the meeting.
2. The Minutes of the 5th Board of Studies meeting held on January 17,2025 were communicated to the members. The comments received have been incorporated and placed for confirmation. The same was approved in the Academic Council.
3. To Consider and approve the syllabus of Computer Security & Audit Assurance in semester V for the academic year 2026-27 for the batch of 2024-27 as per CBCS. (Enclosed in Annexure- I)

   Justification: Steganography is a specialized topic with limited direct application in most cybersecurity job roles. Replacing it with Computer Security & Audit Assurance provides students with essential skills in security auditing, risk assessment, and compliance, which are highly demanded in the cybersecurity industry.
4. To Consider and approve the syllabus of Distributed Systems in semester V for the academic year 2026-27 for the batch of 2024-27 as per CBCS.
   (Enclosed in Annexure- I)

   Justification: Learning Distributed Systems is useful for Cyber Security students because many modern applications and services operate on distributed environments such as cloud platforms, networks, and large-scale systems. Understanding distributed system concepts helps students identify security challenges like data consistency, network vulnerabilities, authentication, and secure communication between multiple systems.
5. To Consider and approve the syllabus of Internet of Things about IOT Security Fundamentals, Secure Engineering and privacy networking in semester V for the academic year 2026-27 for the batch of 2024-27 as per CBCS.
   (Enclosed in Annexure- I)

   Justification: The IoT course was revised to emphasize security, privacy, and attack mitigation, aligning the subject with the core focus of the B.Sc Cyber Security program. The updated outcomes also introduce secure protocols, cryptography, and blockchain concepts to better prepare students for addressing real-world IoT security challenges.
6. To Consider and approve the syllabus of Machine Learning about Basics of Machine Learning Algorithms, Evaluation Methods ,Neural Network Fundamentals and AI Applications in semester V for the academic year 2026-27 for the batch of 2024-27 as per CBCS.
   (Enclosed in Annexure- I)

   Justification: The Machine Learning course was revised to provide strong foundational knowledge of machine learning concepts, algorithms, and computational learning theory, which are essential before applying them to cybersecurity problems. This change enables cyber security students to develop, evaluate, and implement machine learning models effectively, allowing them to apply these techniques to various security applications such as threat detection, anomaly detection, and fraud analysis.
7. To Consider and approve the syllabus of Database Security in semester V for the academic year 2026-27 for the batch of 2024-27 as per CBCS.
   (Enclosed in Annexure- I)

   Justification: As per the revised academic scheme, the subject Database Security has been shifted from the 6th semester to the 5th semester. The primary reason for this change is to provide students with an early understanding of database protection mechanisms, security threats, and secure data management practices.

8. To Consider and approve the syllabus of cloud Computing in semester VI for the academic year 2026-27 for the batch of 2024-27 as per CBCS.
(Enclosed in Annexure- I)
Justification: The subject Cloud Computing has been shifted from the 5th semester to the 6th semester and practical sessions have been included to enhance students' hands-on experience.
9. To Consider and approve the list of examiners for B.Sc. Computer Science & Cyber Security under regulation 2026.(Enclosed in Annexure-II)
10. To Consider and approve the Indent for library books with a budget of Rs 1,77,555 for AY 2026-27.(Enclosed in Annexure-III)
